LACTATION CONSULTANT

Exciting News: New Concierge Lactation Support Packages Now Available!

Feeding your baby deserves expert care—and you deserve support every step of the way.

I'm so excited to share a new way to work together—one that reflects the level of personalized, long-term care I love to provide. Instead of booking one visit at a time, families can now choose from care packages that showcase different levels of care and access to me as your 1:1 lactation consultant. Designed to offer concierge-level lactation support from start to finish.

I know this shift in pricing may feel different, but here's why I made this change:

- Packages allow me to provide consistent, high-touch support, starting the moment you book.
- You'll receive priority access, ongoing communication, and expert follow-up—not just a one-time visit.
- This model helps ensure predictability and availability for both your family and mine.
- And yes—insurance still reimburses for lactation care!

Lactation support remains covered under the Affordable Care Act, and you can still expect reimbursement for these services just like before. Here's how it works:

- Families with The Lactation Network (TLN) eligible plans, Cigna, or United Healthcare—I can bill your insurance directly, and your plan typically covers $175 per visit. Based on your package, we will discuss expected reimbursement and coverage.
- If you're with Blue Cross Blue Shield of MA, Harvard Pilgrim, Tufts (non-MassHealth), or MGB/Brigham, these companies will always reimburse you directly for lactation care—even under this new package model.
- Whether we bill your insurance for the full package or each visit individually, reimbursement is still possible, and I'll help guide you through the process.

Not sure what works best for you or have questions? Let's connect on a free discovery call and talk through it together.

This model allows me to partner with families who are ready to commit to expert support—and in return, you'll receive the compassionate, evidence-based care I've always delivered, now with even more intentionality and connection.
